LORD KITCHENER WILL VISIT HONOLULU NO CHOLERA ON JAPANESE SHIP

LORD KITCHENER PASSING THROUGH ON MARAMA

Now General Inspector
All England's
Fortifications

MAY BE INVITED TO STOP OVER

England's Greatest Field Marshal
Coming Home From Australian
Campaign—Short History of His Military Career.

British Consul Foster has received word that Field Marshal Lord Kitchener will pass through here on the Marama on his way back to England. The Marama is due here on the 21st.

Lord Kitchener has been in Australia for some time on an inspection of the Commonwealth forts and other divisions of the army.

Consul Foster wishes that it is not probable that Lord Kitchener will stop over here, but that an endeavor will be made to have him do so.

The British lord was born in Quilley, Kerry, Ireland, near the town of Ballinacorney, in 1850. He received his military education in the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich and made his bow in actual service as a lieutenant in the Royal Engineers in 1871. From that time on, Lord Kitchener has been in active service, leading many a victory to his credit and distinguishing himself in the field, especially when he led the Egyptian troops against Osman Digna at Handouah. In 1898 he was honored for work on the Sudan frontier, and was created a Companion of the Bath.

He utterly destroyed the power of the Khalifa in the battle of Omdurman in 1898, and for this brilliant piece of work he was raised to the peerage as Baron Kitchener of Khartoum, the House of Commons and a grant of £20,000.

He served as governor-general and commander-in-chief of the Egyptian Sudan up to the latter part of 1899. He resigned this post and accompanied Lord Roberts to South Africa as chief of his staff in the war with the Boers. When Lord Roberts became commander-in-chief at home, Lord Kitchener succeeded him in South Africa and brought about peace conditions on May 31.

After the establishment of peace in South Africa, Lord Kitchener was returned to India as commander-in-chief, from which station he was called to the home office and established inspector-general of all English fortifications throughout the world.

QUINN-DAVIS CASE HEARD IN COURT

Witnesses Tell Of How Autos Met In
Crash

Thomas J. Quinn appeared in court this morning on the complaint of J. Davis, with whose automobile Quinn is alleged to have collided on King street at 1:15 a. m. on February 22. Joseph Lightfoot and Ben appeared for the complaint, and Clem K. Quinn for the defendant.

Several witnesses testified to hearing the noise of the impact of the two machines when they struck, and also to hearing the sound of breaking glass as Davis' car was forced into the window of Levy's store.

Davis gave evidence to the fact that he was opposite Wells Fargo's office when Quinn came along, and bumped into his machine. The force was sufficient to send his car across the pavement and into the plate glass window of Levy's store.

Ask Deportation Of Poachers

Immigration Inspector Cables To Washington—Schlemmer's
Agreement

Warrants of deportations have been requested of the Department of Commerce and Labor by Immigration Inspector Brown, directed against the twenty-three poachers who were captured at Laysan island by the revenue cutter Thetis.

The warrants will be held by the Immigration Inspector until the United States Court is thorough with the poachers. The warrants will be immediately operative should the poachers be acquitted or in the event of their conviction would be held in abeyance until the completion of their sentence when the men will be immediately deported according to the provisions of the United States laws.

The original documents and agreements between "King Max" Schlemmer and the poachers are all in the hands of the United States District Attorney and are of great interest to the prosecuting officers of the Federal government.

The articles of agreement state expressly that Schlemmer gives the Japanese the authorization to kill all the birds for plumage they desire on the good little island of Laysan. This agreement was signed at a time prior to the passage by Congress of the act making it a crime to kill birds on Laysan.

The Japanese state that Schlemmer did not inform them that a new United States law made it a crime to kill the birds but assert on the contrary that they could proceed with the bird killing without fear of interruption.

International Ball Games Next July

Santa Clara, Waseda University, and Local Teams To Play Series—W. W.
Harris Working On Proposition

That Honolulu is going to have a real good season of baseball in the near future is practically assured, and W. W. Harris, who is in communication with P. A. McHenry of the Santa Clara team, is also figuring on a combination that will make the mouths of the fans water.

It is well known that the Waseda University team of Japanese players will be going to the mainland before long to play a series of games, and Harris is figuring on having the Japanese stay over here for at least three weeks, and play a series of games with the Santa Clara boys and local nines.

The best possible combined team will be picked from the Oahu League and another nine from the best of the Honolulu League. This will provide four teams that should put up a brand of ball that has not been seen in these islands for years.

The management figure on playing two games every Saturday and two on Sundays, and the series will be so arranged that the teams from the Oahu league and Honolulu league will be sent up against the Santa Clara and Waseda in turn.

The Santa Clara boys get their vacation in July, and the Japanese also will be at liberty then. Harris thinks that there will be no trouble in the case of the Waseda nine, and that they will surely stop over and play ball. The Santa Clara manager has been written to and the proposition is up to him. There is every probability of the series between the mainland, Japanese, Oahu and Honolulu men coming off and the Athletic Park should not be able to hold the crowds that will roll up to see the play.

While the matter is as good as settled, the exact date of the start of the series cannot at present be given. As soon as Harris hears from McHenry the whole matter can be taken up and preparations made for the visits of the Coast and Japanese teams.

It is thought that the proposed series will once more put life into first class ball, and that the Honolulu league will revive and go ahead with the vim shown some years ago.

FOREIGN No Cholera On SHIPS PAY

Physicians Now Think Stricken
Men Not Suffering From
Dread Disease

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 10.—Attorney General Clegg today considered an opinion of the United States Surgeon General, Dr. Henshaw, that the foreign steamships which are lying between America and foreign ports are subject to a quarantine tax levied against the shipping corporations.

No evidences of cholera have been found by the physicians of the United States Marine Hospital service among the three Japanese members of the Japanese ship Tamon Maru which is held in quarantine. It is now believed that the men are not suffering from the disease.

In a determination to prevent the endangering of the health of the community through a contamination of the waters by the Japanese ship Tamon Maru, now held in quarantine, a meeting of the Board of Health was called this afternoon.

It was proposed to enforce a strict fishing ban, the Board of Health planning to promulgate an order prohibiting the taking of fish in the shore waters between Diamond Head and the city, and the Japanese ship Tamon Maru, which is held in quarantine.

A measure of this kind is of the highest importance at this time, declared President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health this morning.

"When we were visited with cholera last time it was traced to the taking of contaminated fish along the shore lines lying in the prohibited area, and this time we will take no chances. The Board of Health has the power to enforce this regulation, and I think it will be carried out."

"We do not know as yet," said Mott-Smith, "whether the three cases at the quarantine station are really cholera, but they are suspicious enough to warrant the utmost precautions, and the prohibited fishing area will do no harm in any event."

Dr. Henshaw, who is the Surgeon General of the United States Marine Hospital service, is of the opinion of the physicians that there is no cholera on the Tamon Maru.

Three Japanese belonging to the crew of the freighter Tamon Maru Number 6, which has been placed under strict quarantine for the past three days, took French leave of the Japanese vessel during the still watches of last night and their whereabouts is now a matter of great concern to Captain Mori, master of that vessel.

The Tamon Maru arrived off the port on Monday morning. The vessel came up from Ocean Island and has a full complement of phosphates for Pacific Guano Company.

Shortly after clearing the southern Pacific island, a case of what is believed to be cholera developed among the crewmen and a few days later the victim died and was buried at sea.

When the Tamon Maru showed up off the port and was boarded by Dr. Ramus and the staff of Federal quarantine officers, two other cases of suspected cholera were found. The evidence that an infectious and quarantinable disease prevailed there, was so strong that the federal authorities placed the Tamon Maru under five days enforced detention. The Japanese freighter would have been released on Sunday, provided no further sickness had developed in the ship's company.

The crew had been rounded up twice daily and it was only after a visit to the quarters had been made this morning, that the officers discovered the absence of the three men.

Signals were at once sent up and a party of quarantine officers called at the ship and learned of the whereabouts of the three men.

The Japanese made their escape by taking to one of the Tamon Maru's boats. The Japanese stole out from their quarters and unbeknown to the officers, lowered the craft and were well away from the ship before their absence was noted. The men and the boat have not been seen since.

The Tamon Maru has been lying off the harbor and at sufficient distance to preclude any degree of safety in an attempt being made to swim to land. There is a stiff penalty imposed by the United States government in such cases and the decamp of the Japanese will cost the owners of the vessel a pretty penny before the matter is settled.

The recapture of the Japanese will be a matter of some importance.

He who believes and acquiesces in everything is very complacently nonentity.

RAW SUGAR MARKET AGAIN TO MOVE UPWARD

Speculations Are Made
From New Stand-
Points

TOTAL REQUIREMENTS AND LIMITED SUPPLIES

Every European Country Which Raises Sugar Has Been Taken
Into Consideration in Making
Estimates for Future Movements.

Willett & Gray's Sugar Journal for February 17 makes the following very interesting report on raw cane and beet sugar conditions:

Raw cane. After weeks of comparative quiet, but without special weakness, the natural advancing trend of the market is resumed under the abnormal statistical condition throughout the sugar world, and especially in relation to the European outlook as shown in another column.

European beet sugar, quoted at 12s. at the close of last week, held steady and firm until yesterday, when the reports of great activity in our markets and in Cuba reached London, causing a violent jump in prices of both cane and beets, the latter rising to 12s. 5-14d. for February, 12s. 3-4d. March, 12s. 5-14d. May, with Java cane at 12s. 10-12d., and 5-14d. per cwt. advance for February beets and 3d. advance for cane.

Sales of the week include 50,000 bags second half March to European speculators at 2.81c. c. f. (4.17c.) on last Thursday; afloat at 2.78c. c. f. (4.14c.) Friday; afloat and prompt shipment at 2.81c. (4.17c.) Wednesday, including March at same price to a total of 300,000 bags; also Wednesday, 10,000 bags, May shipment Cubas at 2.78c. c. f., equal 4.24c. landed. Wednesday's sales included several parcels at 2.72c. f. o. b., giving buyers option of United Kingdom markets.

Thus far 35,000 tons Cubas have been sold of present crop for the United Kingdom, or with options of that market. The close is strongly in favor of sellers.

Cuba crop estimates remain unchanged.

P. O. Licht cabled us estimate of 5 per cent. increased sowings beet crop of Germany.

At the close Cubas for prompt shipment were sold at 2.84c. c. f., advancing spot quotation to 4.20c. landed, and shipment second half March was sold to speculators at 2.78c. c. f., equal to 4.24c. landed. There is also some talk that exporters have paid 2.78c. c. f. for March.

PETRIE BETTER

Lester Petrie, who was seriously injured yesterday at the railroad depot, spent a comfortable night and was reported to be doing well this morning. There have been so many callers and telephone messages asking how the patient was that it was thought better to not excite Petrie by telling him of the numerous enquiries.

From present appearances, the well-known railroad man will be out of the hospital before long and will be as good as ever.
